Hanna For President.

Whatever objections may be made to the candidacy of Senator Hanna for the Presidential nomination in 1904, it must be acknowledged after a full and thoughtful consideration of the subject that he is the logical candidate of his party.
Hanna is the embodiment of all for which the degenerate Republican party stands at the present time. He is the accepted apostle for the first article of faith in the Republican creed, which holds that the dollar is superior to the man. He is the expounder of the doctrine that rich men must be made richer by making poor poorer. He is the teacher of the demagogical belief that American politics should be run on the buckskin basis of barter and sell. He is the incarnate illustration of the right of the strong hand. He is a temperamental antagonist of popular Government and a scouter at the idea that a victory of honest principle is more to be desired than the gaining of material and selfish ends.
Hanna has shaped the Republican party of his day into the likeness of his own image. Since that ominous moment when he first emerged from the obscurity of his money-grabbing private occupation to take personal charge of McKinley's political fortunes in behalf of syndicated capital, the Republican party, from the ethical viewpoint, has been a commercial bargain. It ceased, under Hanna's leadership, to weigh the right and wrong of any public question. It took the world's side of every issue. It retired from places of authority in the party councils the conscientious men who could not subscribe to Hanna's creed. It put forward the hard and unscrupulous political adventurers who hailed Hanna as a leader after their own hearts. It became an opportunist party, with the dollar dominating all else in establishing the standard of morality.

The Republican party of to-day will be false to itself if it fails to nominate Mark Hanna for the Presidency in 1904. It will not have the courage of its own convictions. It will confess in effect that it chooses leader and master is of personality too evil to make a winning appeal for the support of the American people. This would be a humiliating attitude for the Hannaized party of the trusts. It should brazenly accept the logic of the situation and name Mark Hanna as its standard bearer in 1904.

Senator Ben Hill's Eulogy.

In an address before the Southern Historical Society, delivered at Atlanta, February 17, 1874, Senator Ben Hill made the following eulogy of General R. E. Lee:

"When the future historian shall come to survey the character of Lee, he will find it rising like a huge mountain above the undulating plain of humanity, and he must lift his eyes high toward heaven to catch its summit. He possessed every virtue of other great commanders without their vices. He was a foe without hate; a friend without treachery; a victor without oppression, and a victor without murmuring. He was a public officer without vices; a private citizen without reproach; a Christian without hypocrisy, and a man without guile. He was a Caesar without his ambition; Frederick without his selfishness; Napoleon without his selfishness; and Washington without his reward. He was obedient to authority as a servant, and loyal in authority as a true king. He was gentle as a woman in life, modest and pure as a virgin in thought; submissive as a Roman in vestal duty; watchful to law as a Senator, and grand in battle as Achilles."

Splendid Pluck.

William Platt, an elevator boy of Philadelphia, has earned distinction by his bravery in the performance of duty in a time of great peril.

On May 1, 1901, at ten minutes past eleven in the forenoon, he noticed a crack in the side wall of a fire-story office at 9 South Broad Street, which had been undermined by excavations. He promptly notified the trustee of the endangered property, who at once consulted the foreman of the crew of excavating laborers.

"No danger," returned the foreman. But the trustee was not satisfied, and notified the chief of the City Bureau of Building Inspection. Then, says the Philadelphia Press, the

New Guinea.

In the far East men tattoo their faces and bodies in a hideous fashion. The women also tattoo, especially the upper parts of their bodies. In some parts of the island a heavily dressed, stout woman is petted of long legs, frequently placing one layer upon another in fountains. These last skirts extend from the waist almost to the knees, and in connection with a necklace of shells or beads, form the entire clothing. Sometimes the skirts are made of the fiber of bark.

The tattooing of the women often covers the whole body, and among some tribes this tattooing forms the coming-out suit of the maidens. The getting of such a suit is exceedingly painful, but Mr. Denney says that the girls are anxious to be in the fashion and gladly submit to it. The girl to be tattooed lies down on the ground, when the ink is pricked under her skin in the various patterns. Thorns are used for the pricking and the thorn dipped into the ink is driven under the skin with a little mallet. Such dress-making is slow, but a suit once made lasts a lifetime.

In some parts of the island it is possible to tell whether a woman is single or married by her hair, or rather the lack of it. The married women are all bald-headed, and the sensible man does not attempt to flirt with a hairless female. A maiden wears her natural wool until the wedding, but after that shaves off every bit of tresses to the scalp and keeps it so shaven for the rest of her life. The first shaving and the scalp, all shaving of this kind is a serious matter. Until the foreigners came the razors were sharp flints, but now the natives use broken glass, and there is a steady demand for soda and beer bottles to break up for shaving utensils.

WHERE THE MEN LAZE.

There are many New Guinea tribes, so Missionary Denney tells me, in which the men laze themselves in with rope in order to reduce the size of their waists and stomachs. They bind bark belts from two to ten inches wide tightly about the body, compressing themselves so that the fulgrows men acquire waists as small as the most tightly laced of our women. It is said that the chief reason for this custom is that the men wish to persuade the women that they have small stomachs and are therefore small eaters. In New Guinea the women are the chief providers, and the young woman who is looking about for a husband is supposed to prize highest the man who will be most easily fed. A boy, on being asked why he laced himself so tightly, said:

"I shall have to get a wife some day and I have a big stomach no one will have me."

For this reason men seldom eat in the presence of women, and they prepare their meals in their club houses. The New Guinea natives do not believe in much fat. It is a disgrace to be fleshy, and the men dread extra adipose tissue as much as do our society women. Indeed, the anti-fat goddess could do a thriving business in New Guinea.

As to food the people are chiefly vegetarians. They live on yams, bananas and sweet potatoes. They are not particular, however, and when they can get them will eat kangaroos, pigs, dogs, snakes and lizards. They are fond of grubs or larvae, and the women dig these out of the trees and cook them.—From Frank Carpenter's Letter.

He Kept His Word.

The following story was told us by a tramp printer, who we cannot vouch for its truthfulness:

"I was once a member of Uncle Tom's Cabin, and we were doing the West, when we became stranded. After a careful inventory it was found that we all had money enough to take us to New York except one man, a ventriloquist, who refused our proffered assistance and said he would be in New York by the time the rest were. Although he had given us a bluff, he had no idea how he was to make it good and was at his wit's end to raise sufficient money to pay his passage. On the way from the theatre to the depot he was followed by a yellow dog, and as mislabeled lovecompany, he called the dog to him, patted him on the head and spoke kindly to him. The dog wagged his tail and opened his mouth. The actor next stepped into a saloon and purchased to get one glass of beer to cheer

Judge Fined Him self.

For twenty years Magistrate Courtwright has been dealing out justice in this city, and he has been a severe judge. The records show that in that period more than 5,000 persons have come before him for drunkenness, and might have of them failed to feel the weight of the arm of the law.

But last Wednesday night the magistrate learned how easy it is to fall. A friend from Vancouver came to see him, and they went out together to see the town. They saw a great deal of it, and after taking his friend to his home, the magistrate was so happy that he went out again to see more. He returned to the hotel soon after that, and insisted on dancing an Indian dance in front of it and showing how the Indians can bowl. The proprietor finally put him to bed.

The next morning the magistrate opened court a little late. There was an unusually large attendance, because there was some idea that something would happen. The magistrate took his seat and rapped for order. Then he called:

"Frank Courtwright, stand up." The magistrate stood up. Then he solemnly tried himself for being drunk and disorderly, and fined himself $20 for it.

"Bat," said Magistrate Courtwright, addressing himself, "for twenty years you have been a sober and respected citizen of this community. In consideration that twenty years of good conduct I will remit the fine."

A burst of applause was sternly repressed by the court, and the next case was called.—Winnesep telegram to The New York Sun.

Cupid on Transport.

Sixty school teachers of the four hundred who started from San Francisco on the transport Thomas, to take charge of the schools in the Philippines were married at Honolulu. When they departed from this port they were utter strangers, but by companionship across the Pacific brought about numerous love affairs.

The captain of the transport steered his heart against the persistent lovers, who desired to be married on the ocean. He would permit no marriages on the ship. When the Thomas reached Honolulu a boat was chartered and thirty couples went ashore and were married, one clergyman officiating at the unique ceremony.

These teachers were chosen from various normal universities of the country to take up the work of organizing the Philippine schools. Their accommodations on the transport was of less than ten days' duration, but they evidently improved the time.

THE SOUTH'S LITERARY WEEKLY

Published at Atlanta, Ga.

After a career of more or less activity in the Southern field for over a quarter of a century The Sunny South has again become a weekly, better and more readable than at any time in its history. It contains the best stories from the best known authors the world over. It is devoted to Southern readers and Southern writers and is their own story paper. Short stories, sketches, incidents of war and of peace, anecdotes at home and abroad, poems, ideas, fashions, hints for home keepers, everything of interest to old and young will appear in its excellent weekly make up.

The two great series, "Tales of the South," by ANTHONY T. B. (now in progress with full promise to cover former statements), and "Rosalvade's Letters," by Maurice Thompson, to begin April 1902, will be made with absorbing interest throughout the whole South. This is your opportunity, and only 50 cents for a full year of it. Think of it! 50 cents.

Subscription price is only fifty cents a year. No agency commission. The paper is its own best offer and argument to the subscriber. One sample copy free to you and your six neighbors whose names and addresses you send on a Postal card, provided you send at once. A club of five at 50 cents each, accompanied by the full amount $2.50 net to us, entitles the sender to The Sunny South a whole year free.

The Sunny South is your old friend in a new form, always improving, every issue to excel the last one. The Sunny South is here at last. Order it today!

The Sunny South is in circulation, the greatest of all Southern Weekly NEWSPAPERS—The Atlanta Weekly Constitution—both for only $1.25 a year. Remit that amount to The Sunny South, and get these two great papers—One Literary, the other News.

There are four hundred and forty-six cases docketed for the Fall term of the Court of Appeals, beginning in this month.

The date set for the next Triennial Convocation is the first Tuesday in September, 1904, and San Francisco is the city.

The Mortality list for Kentucky during the year 1900, as shown by the Census Bureau, is as follows: Total deaths, 27,091, 18,843 males and 18,248 females. In Louisville there were 4,092 deaths, 2,106 being males and 1,986 females.

Judge Frank E. Dougherty, of Bardonia, has announced his candidacy for Congress in the Fourth District, to succeed the Hon. Dave Smith. There will be others to come to the front and the fight for the nomination in that district will be especially interesting.

A horrible story comes from Springfield, told by a young lady writing to her aunt who resides at Harrodsburg. She states that the water in the reservoir at that place had become so odiferous that an investigation was made and the bodies of eight partly decomposed infants were found.

Boss Bass and his office holders met in Louisville last Saturday and re-named a ticket for County and City officers. The best element of the Republican party did not attend the convention, and declare they will have nothing to do with a ticket nominated by the Sapp crowd. Jno. A. Stratton heads the ticket for Mayor.

The Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer is offering $50,000 in Cash Premiums for the nearest correct guesses on the total vote of Ohio. The election in Ohio occurs on Tuesday November 6th, this year, and is for a Governor, State Officers and Legislators. The new Legislature will choose United States Senator to succeed Senator Foraker. The Enquirer also offers $20 each week for the largest class of guesses received during that week. This is an excellent chance for obtaining money easy.

The Knights Templar Conclave which convened in Louisville last week was the most brilliant affair and the largest gathering of people ever assembled in the metropolis of this State. From every State in the union and from the distant ends of the earth, the knights came, their friends came. There were 10,000 in the parade and thousands of others were present who did not take part in the exhibition of Knighthood. Fully 250,000 visitors were attracted to the city of Louisville to witness that grand pageant and from every point it was a great success. The first prize in the drill contest, which was a silver banquet set of thirty-four pieces, valued at $5,000, was won by the Denver commandery, of Colorado. St. Bernard Commandery, of Chicago, won second. Golden Gate of California, third, and a Cincinnati Commandery fourth. The drilling commenced at 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. on Wednesday and was witnessed by 30,000. De Molay Commandery, of Louisville, bore and pays homage to the Denver Knights, who now stand the champions of all the land. Below we give the Courier-Journal in its report of De Molay's surrender of the championship to the new champions from the Rockies.

Eminent Commander Adams then presented a beautiful silk pennant, half white and half black on which was embroidered in gold letters the word "Champions" and underneath a large Passion cross in red. The banner was handsomely mounted and on the staff was a gold plate suitably inscribed. In presenting the pennant, Eminent Commander Adams said: "Eminent Sir: It affords me pleasure and pardonable pride to represent to-night a commandery to which any Sir Knight may be proud to owe allegiance. Though De Molay is only a little over a quarter of a century old, she has achieved in her brief career fame at home and abroad, and the most potent factor in her career has been her drill team, organized during her infancy. This team has appeared in six competitive drills and come off victor in all-four State and two national contests, winning second prize at Chicago in 1880 and first at San Francisco in 1883, becoming then the champion in the United States, which position she has since held.

"On many previous occasions we have gone abroad and accepted the hospitality of our fraters, partaking of yours at Denver only a few years since; and now we are honored by your acceptance of our invitation and we are proud to receive you as our guests. We have tried to return the many courtesies and bounties received at your hands; we have given our time, money and labor to show you our gratitude and to make your stay with us pleasant and profitable; we have given you all we have and now surrender to you that which is dearest to the heart of every Sir Knight in De Molay, our much prized championship.

"You have won it fairly, Eminent Sir, and while we part with the title with regret, we congratulate you on the success and beg to present this pennant to you as a slight token of your ascendancy and of our sincere appreciation of past courtesies."

While De Molay Commandery passes over the championship to the victors so likewise the Knights of the whole State congratulate the winners but they look forward to a day when our own beloved Knights of Kentucky may bring back the prestige held so long and lost only last week. Col. Breckenridge delivered the address of welcome which, from the beginning to conclusion, sparkled with rhetoric, overflowed with sentiment and abounded with logic. Taking all in all no city has surpassed Louisville in a thorough preparation, no State has felt a greater pride and no convocation ever had a broader heart-felt hospitality. The city papers, overreach all former efforts in paying tribute to the Knights; in advertising the hospitality of the State and in painting victory on the evening event of their history and great gathering ever held in the State.

This office is in receipt of a 60 page booklet entitled, "Kentucky the Beautiful," by R. E. Hughes and C. C. Owsley and issued by the passenger department of the Louisville and Nashville railroad. Its purpose is to acquaint the outside world, and Kentuckians especially, with the many attractive features of the Bluegrass State, particularly that portion traversed by this great system of railroad. Taking Louisville as a starting point it follows its main line through the State, then every attraction across every point and character of historic note on its many branches are pictured in an inviting manner. It touches the founding, and gives a brief history of Gettysburg Abbey, forty-eight miles from Louisville, the most remarkable monastic community in the world and the home of one of the two orders of Trappist Monks on this side of the globe, the other being near Dubuque, Iowa. It marks the spot that inspired Stephen Collins Foster and produced his song "My Old Kentucky Home;" it points out from the L. & N. car window the place and character of the reader to the character—the foundation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin;" it reveals in the famous bluegrass sections giving the reader a synopsis of that section and its greatest characters of ante-bellum days—the persons who figured both in State and national affairs. It gives much information on Kentucky products and from the list of the many and well equipped L. & N. trains nearly all of the historic places of this State are reached. The L. & N. will carry you to the first race track, it passes the first distillery, glides through the most beautiful and productive region of the world, takes the direct route to the Mammoth Cave—the greatest cavern known, and from the beautiful and productive sections it carries the pleasure seeker in the heart of the Cumberland mountains where the face of the earth is rugged and the scene sublime. The above mentioned book will thoroughly acquaint you with the many attractive features of our State, it will revive your memory of her noted and gifted sons and will impart so much information that only a miser would begrudge its cost. You can secure this valuable book by sending 10 cents in stamps to C. L. Stone, Gen. Pass. Agt. L. & N. R. R., Louisville, Ky.

Louisville is not only to be congratulated upon the royal manner in which the Knights Templar were entertained, but her honest citizenry kept pickpockets from entering her gates. Something like four hundred thousand strangers in the metropolis and but one or two thefts reported by the city papers. The Courier-Journal and the Evening Times, did themselves proud, furnishing the fullest details of the proceedings, illustrating all the interesting points in the city, and presenting photographs of many of the distinguished Knights.

Mr. Zach Phelps, the well-known Louisville lawyer, died last Thursday night.

ROWENA.

Mr. John McFarland, who has been very sick for several weeks, has greatly improved but he will not be able to meet his many friends at the Fair.

Candidates for county offices have not been in this locality up to this writing, but our people are suffering no uneasiness, knowing that they will not be disappointed. It is some weeks until the election.

There is some good stock in this neighborhood, and a great many hogs will be placed upon the market, though we will have plenty of corn for home consumption. Fat cattle are not plentiful at this time, but a great many sheep could be purchased.

Luther McFarland, who is very much attached to Columbia, will in all probability enter college there this Fall. He is a very excellent young man, popular with every body. He informed me a few days ago that he expected to meet many of his Columbia friends at the Fair this week.

JAMESTOWN.

J. W. Johnston was in town last week. Miss Lucy Bell, of Danville, is the guest of Miss Edie Faulkner. Miss Lora Snow, of Rowena, is visiting Mrs. A. H. Baugh. Born, to the wife of Hon. N. H. W. Aaron, the 3rd, a daughter. Miss Josie Reckart, of Missouri, is visiting Miss Nora Dockery. The teachers institute opened last week with 19 in attendance. Prof. Carabham and Raymond, of Bara

Collego, were the instructors. They both are young teachers and the institute was quite a success. Mr. O. L. Phelps having spent 19 of the 20 words selected by Prof. Carabham was awarded the gold medal. Miss Lena and Sallie Williams, of Montpelier, visited Miss Margaret Jones last Wednesday and Thursday. Miss Roxie Falkenberg, of Barf, is visiting relatives in town. Prof. Mat Winfrey, of Stanford, attended the Institute at this place. Mrs. J. A. Winfrey, of Seelyville, was in town Wednesday. Miss Edie McFarland, of Rowena, spent week with Mrs. W. L. D. Owell. Dr. J. D. Jones, of Columbia, was here last week. Miss Katherine Simpson entertained quite a number of her many friends last Friday evening. All present reported a good time. The ice cream supper given by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. last Wednesday night at the court-house was quite a success. The Mt. Vernon Band furnished the music, and every one seemed to have a nice time.

GRADYVILLE.

Our town was full of people last Saturday. Ed. Z. T. Williams preached a very interesting last night at the Methodist church. W. L. Grady left Monday morning for the Russell Springs Fair with a nice string of horses. Quite a number of people attended service at Neil last Sunday conducted by Ed. Z. T. Williams. Mr. Perill, the oil man of Pennsylvania, has been with us taking leave. Rev. T. L. Hulse is holding a series of meetings at Summer Shade. C. O. Moss and wife, visited the family of Wm. Francis, of Bliss, last Saturday and Sunday. H. C. Walker has been on the sick list.

Uncle John Sneed, one of the oldest men in this section, was badly hurt by the kick of a mule. Dr. W. L. Turk, of Gallion, Ala., spent a few days of last week with his son, Ed. H. C. Walker. Messrs. H. H. Baughman, and J. C. Mosby, of Edinburg, were in our midst one day last week. Misses Bessie Walker and Olga Hulse are confined to their rooms with nuptials. Prof. G. P. Dillon and Thad Salmon visited in Metcalfe county Saturday night and Sunday. Mr. L. Baughman, of Litchfield, has been here a few days with relatives in our town.

Auction sale at J. J. Hunter's last Saturday was largely attended. We suppose everybody got the worth of their money. Messrs. Sam Mitchell, Wm. Hurt and Tom Murrell, of Columbia, were shaking hands with our people last Saturday. H. A. Walker and J. B. Smith made up to Metcalfe county last week and bought three extra mules for $300. Mr. W. W. Kates, one of our best stock men in Metcalfe county looking after sheep. He wants 200 stock ewes.

Mr. Ben Evans and Rev. Leslie Bottoms a long fishing trip to Cumberland river in a few days. Several from here are attending the Russell Springs Fair. Miss Bertha Breeding accompanied by Miss Pearl Breeding who is teaching at this place visited the latter's parents on Sulphur Spur last Saturday and Sunday.

We have been informed that Rev. Wyatt Montgomery will begin a protracted meeting at Tabernacle soon. We want him to hurry up, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in the hands of all who suffer as I have. For sale by M. Craven.

If you want to invest some money in the Columbia Oil Co. call on or write Wm. F. Jeffries or any member of the company in this town.

Attended the Editor. Editor S. A. Brown, of Bensenville, S. C., was here immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and after using several bottles she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and it's a genuine laxative for troubled for torpid liver." For further particulars, apply to J. H. BURNETT, A. M. President, GEO. J. BURNETT, A. M. Vice President.

He owes his Life to the Forthright of a Companion. While on a camping trip to Webster county, S. I. Stump, Norman, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the forthrightness of one of the boys who had taken along a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Moral—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board ship or steamship, and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers now leave home on a journey without it. For sale by M. Craven.

CANE VALLEY. Tom Moore (in Louisville. Mr. Sam Aaron Wilson, of Gresham, was here on business last Tuesday. Mr. Frank Rice, Jr., sold a nice span of mules to Mr. Elsie Cundiff, of Danville, for $200. Tom Corbin, who has been visiting his parents has returned to his home in Illinois. Mr. Mat Winfrey, of Rowena, visited the brothers John and Sol McFarland last week. Tyler Johnston, of Bloomington, Ill., is visiting relatives here. J. W. Sisset and Horace Masie are visiting in McKines, Texas. Miss Pearl Neas, of Vester, was visiting Miss Ethyl Dohoney last week. Mrs. Rose Stark, of Lexington, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Nancy D. Hall. Lee Bomgarner, of Barclay, Ill., is visiting his parents. Ben Murrell, who has been in Dayton, O., has returned home. Mrs. J. E. Bliss and Mrs. J. T. Sublett, of Taylor county, visited their father, Mr. E. C. Schlett, Sunday. The school at this place under the management of Mrs. Mary T. Harvey, assisted by her daughter, Miss Mary, is progressing surprisingly well to the delight of all the patrons in the district. The district comprises one hundred children of school age, and when you take into consideration that they are all enrolled but ten, quite a complement is paid Mrs. Harvey and her estimable daughter.

Russell Springs. Every thing is in readiness for the Fair and visitors have already begun to arrive. The Vaughan hotel has already made all necessary arrangements and will comfortably accommodate the many visitors who will attend. A good stock reached the Fair grounds yesterday and other strings are expected to-day. The health of the community is in perfect order and the water in the celebrated spring was never better. Business men have received their supplies for the week, and no one need have any fear of the town being unable to supply their wants. Lee Baker, one of Columbia's barbers and a half dozen boot blacks from the same city are upon the grounds, and fiddler Bill Spencer is expected hourly, hence while the Mt. Vernon boys are breathing fresh air Bill's clarion voice will be heard for miles around. It is said that stock from Lincoln, Boyle and Casey counties will be here, and the many other attractive features will bring a large gathering of people. In behalf of the Association I invite you to come. Come in bugles, come horse-back, come in spring wagons, come walking, come any way just so you get here.

Dr. Russell will be at the Russell Springs Hotel, Russell Springs, Ky., during the summer season—July until August. Persons desiring to try the new method of healing should avail themselves of the opportunity while on their summer vacation. Good hotel accommodations can be obtained at reasonable rates. CHAPPEL & JACKSON, OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIANS, SOMERSET, KY. Call or write for further information.

Parties in Columbia or vicinity desiring their pianos and organs tuned will please leave word with Mrs. Rollin Hurt, who will have me attended, and the work will be done at once. FRED M. SCHIEDLER.

Bear Brand Fertilizer. To grow good wheat you must fertilize and when you buy fertilizer you should know that you get the best for the money you pay. Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After thirty Years of Suffering. "I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and I thought I was past being cured," says J. S. Hallway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in the hands of all who suffer as I have. For sale by M. Craven.

Married.

On Wednesday afternoon, August 28, 1901, Mr. Albert N. Johnston, of Ohio, was married to Miss Mattie M. Coy, who resided with her brother-in-law, Mr. W. T. McFarland at this place. Rev. Jesse L. Murrell officiated assisted by Rev. W. P. Gordon. Only the family and a few personal friends witnessed the ceremony. The bride is a sister of Mr. J. W. Coy, of Columbia, and for the past four years resided in the vicinity of this place. The groom came to this county about six years ago and during his stay was in the lumber business. His department was gentlemanly and he made quite a number of friends. For the present the couple will reside in Louisville, and left for that city the morning after the ceremony, carrying with them the best wishes of their many friends.

Died.

Mr. H. M. Mitchell, who was a brother of Mr. S. H. Mitchell, this place, died last Monday. He was a native of Kentucky, and was a very excellent citizen and was a victim of typhoid fever. He was 46 years old and leaves a wife and three children. The funeral services were held Friday afternoon and the popularity of the deceased was shown by the very large assembly of neighboring relatives and friends who called to pay their respects to one they admired in life. He was a man of excellent character and habits, a friend to the distressed, and a loving companion and father. To the sorrowing widow and children, the aged father, and the brother who was his playmate in infancy, the News extends its condolence, hoping that when life's labors are finished it will be a reunited family in that land where death never comes and partings are unknown.

Mr. C. B. Eubank is continuously meeting with losses. Last week his "little blue" dog valued at $2500 succumbed to the inevitable and took his departure for canine heaven.

The attention of the trustees is called to the fifth upon the square.

J. W. Hurt and deputies up and are ready for the coming court.

The Columbia Oil Company will commence sinking a well in Wayne county in the next few days.

The oil men are about through leasing in Adair county. They have gathered about $150,000 acres in the last four weeks.

One of the most attractive improvements about the town is the new building that encloses the residence of Mr. W. A. C. Day.

Mr. Sam Estes, of Metcalfe county, was married to Miss Esther Estes, whose home was near Ely, this county, last Sunday. The rites were solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, and for the present the couple will reside in Adair county.

County Court brought a goodly number of people to Columbia last Monday. Traffic in stock was fairly good and the merchants were busy during the day. The watermelon men were here in great numbers and many wagon loads were sold upon the square.

The people of Russell county are having a delightful time this week. The Russell Springs Fair is in session and citizens from all sections are in attendance. Once a year the people of this hospitable county come together and for four days have an old time love fest.

Strangers who will attend the Russell Springs Fair this week will be made to feel at home. The people of Russell county are constitutionally opposed to the "blues" and every person who steps within their gates will at once be made comfortable and entertained most delightfully.

Active work is now going on at the Male and Female High School, preparatory to opening the Fall session the 30th of this month. Some necessary improvements are being made to the inside and a well is being sunk upon the grounds. Mr. Geo. Nell, one of the trustees of the institution, is superintending the work.

Miss Pauline Cabell, this city, was honored with an invitation to attend the Knights Templar Ball, Louisville. The invitation was issued by the Louisville Committee and was received in time for the young lady to have been present had she been making preparations to be in the city during the dance week.

A fair will be held at Columbia next week, but there will be a departure from the old way of rendering decisions in all contests except farm products and in the ladies department. A competent judge will be employed, and he alone will decide all the horse, mule, cattle, sheep, pigs and all other classes where horses are employed.

There is some excitement about Lisleston, Green county. A few days ago parties were boring a well for water and after going down some distance a vein of coal was struck. Work was stopped for the day and the following morning the hole was full of oil. All the land in the neighborhood has been leased.

The candidates representing both political parties were in town last Monday and not a man failed to meet them. They were exceedingly courteous, and the canvass is moving along harmoniously—every body is in perfect good humor, especially the candidates who will doubtless remain in the present good mood until the poles close in November.

The prohibition party of Adair county met at the court-house last Monday and named the following ticket for district and county offices: State Senator, W. S. Stone, Russell county; Representative, G. B. Breeding, County Judge, Dr. W. W. Bingham, Sheriff, W. H. Cundiff, Jailer, T. G. Coffey, Assessor, C. P. Backs, Superintendent, Tobias Hufaker.

Mr. Robt. O. Keltner, who left Adair county forty years ago, came in a few weeks since on a visit. In his hands he met Miss Cora B. Vier and at once an attachment was formed which ripened into love, and Monday afternoon they were married in this city. Mr. Keltner is fifty-nine years old and his bride is twenty-two—January and May allied for future happiness and prosperity.

It is getting a little late for snake stories, but here is one told by Mr. Ely Danron, who was in the office last Monday. Alfred Burton, a young boy who last week was in light farm came up a few days ago with a corned snake he had killed upon the square. The snake was of a large one, and it was suggested to buy it to cut it open. Upon doing so twenty-two young snakes spread themselves upon the ground.

Last Thursday the Knights, who attended the Conclave in Louisville, from this place, returned to Columbia on the 12 o'clock train. Capt. W. W. Bradshaw is the only Knight in the town who has a Templar's uniform, and he was requested to appear on our streets in his regalia. Sir Knight Bradshaw came and at 4 p. m. he was in full dress as a Knight, and attracted considerable attention, as many in this city had never before seen the like. Sir Knight Bradshaw is an enthusiastic Mason, and is in the work heart and soul. His regalia is an unusually fine one and cost over $700. Other Knights of this city will be equipped for the next convocation.

For hunting has a charm that many sports do not possess for it induces them to go far or right, in the light in the darkness on the road and into dense thickets wherever the voice of the faithful hounds be heard. Of all the who delight in a chase in this section, no one, we suppose, takes more delight in a race than Gov. J. R. H. H. and the idea of killing a fox is relative to all our citizens who have a chase. Some time ago a fox came a rooster from Mrs. Alfred Murrell and when threats were breathing about it the fox hunters decided to replace all foxes that were caught in this hunting territory. So Gov. H. H. informed us that he delivered to Mrs. Murrell one of the finest Plymouthcock roosters ever seen in all this country and that very night chased the fox over a ten acre field a dozen times.

On August 31st about one hundred people assembled at the home of Mr. C. B. Bunt, a surprise dinner being given them, it being his Seventieth birthday. Eleven of his children and twenty-six of his grandchildren were present. After dinner which was greatly enjoyed by all, they assembled in the parlor and had a singing concert by Rev. W. S. Duguen and B. Beard and G. W. Pike. The young people present were as follows: Misses Kittle and Jennie Smith, Edna and Myrtle Watson, Maud Pike, Myrtle and Edna Pikes, Lora Humphrey, Millie, Ollie and Elsie Bunt, Katharine and Jo Anna Banks and Mary Hood. Messrs. Geo. Pike, Lindsey Watson, Geo. Grider, John T. Banks, Sam Grider, Calvin, Ollie, Monte and Walla Bunt, Everett and Lucian Turner, Elmer and Sam Smith, Ben Bunt.

A party of young people charpered by Mrs. E. A. Adams, of this city, to visit Mrs. Jake McGee, Burkesville, visited Todd's Cave last Saturday night. It required two wagons and several haggies to convey the party to the cave, and a merrier set of young people are not often gotten together. Quite a number entered the cavern and to those who had never beheld the underground sights it was a very interesting trip. An elegant luncheon was spread and the vocalists did their best to entertain their rural friends living in the vicinity of the cave. All the members of the party pronounced it one of the most enjoyable outings of the season.

A citizens' meeting of taxpayers of Taylor county met at Campbellville a few days ago to devise a way and means for settling the railroad debt of the county. It was the sense of those present that a levy of four dollars on the one hundred dollars be made for this purpose. Forty thousand dollars could be raised in this way, and if the bondholders accept that amount, the debt will be paid. As we understand it the above proposition will be made to the bondholders at once. We hope the proposition will be accepted and that Taylor county will be given an opportunity to free herself of this burdensome taxation.

The following are the election Commissioners in this immediate section: Adair county, H. B. Garrett, Democrat; J. J. Higgs, Republican; Cass county, J. P. Wilkinson, Democrat; J. T. Diver, Republican; Cumberland county, G. C. Sandage, Democrat; V. B. Jones, Republican; Green county, Lee Durham, Democrat; Woodson Lewis, Republican; Metcalfe county, B. B. Howell, Democrat; G. D. Taylor, Republican; Russell county, J. B. Stone, Democrat; N. B. Falkenberg, Republican; Taylor county, H. R. Turner, Democrat; A. B. Gowdy, Republican.

Mr. W. H. Hudson met with a very serious accident last Saturday. He was on Cumberland river, buying stock, and in the neighborhood of Crepsboro his horse expired and Mr. Hudson was pitched headfirst to the ground. At first he concluded that he was not hurt, but later developments proved that his collar bone was broken. He remained on the river until next morning then hurriedly drove home, suffering intensely all the while. Reaching home, Dr. J. H. Grady was called and the broken bone set. The patient is now resting easy, but it will be several weeks before he will be able to attend to business.

Mr. Samuel Lewis, of this place, received a letter a few days ago from his sister, who lives in Germany, detailing the death of his brother, Simon, which occurred about the first of June in a hospital in South Africa. The deceased was thirty-six years old, and some time ago he visited his brother in this country. Mr. Lewis' sister could not get the particulars of the death, as the supposition is that the deceased was killed for the Boers and became wounded with the result as above stated. To Mr. Lewis and family this paper extends its sympathy.

It is estimated that between six and eight thousand dollars have been paid out in Adair county in the last five years for taxes. If the colity is developed, oil, gas, etc., found, the money will have been probably spent. It is not known when operations will commence, but the company who is buying the leases evidently intend to put down several wells in the County. At the end of a year if the company continues to hold the land leased it will, under the contract, have to pay rent at a specified sum per acre.

We understand there is a great deal of sickness among Cumberland river, between Greenbush and Burkesville. The cause is attributed to dehydrated corn. Corn in the low lands was covered by recent high waters, and the sun rays have brought out a very disagreeable odor, with the result as above stated.

CREELSBORO.

Our town is a little dull just now, as the citizens are moving out for the Russell Springs.

Decaying vegetation along a bank of the river is furnishing a very unpleasant odor, and many are fearful that an epidemic of fever will break out.

The people throughout this section were very sorry to hear of the death of which befell Mr. W. H. Hudson at the river last Saturday. He has been trading in this locality a great many years and his friends are numerous.

Over pearl hounds are anxious for the river to get low in order that they may pursue their profitable avocation.

Many hogs on the river will be sold as the late rise in the Cumberland river destroyed thousands of barrels of corn.

GLENSFORK.

Mr. Rufus Helm and wife, of Maricourt, visited the family of John S. Helm, of this place, and also his companion in this place. Mr. Helm was reared in the neighborhood of Helm's Mill in Russell county; joined the Confederate Army in 1861; was paroled in 62; came home and in a short time went to Lebanon where he has lived ever since.

Mr. J. D. Simmons, of this place, died last Saturday and was buried Sunday. Our school is progressing fairly—78 scholars.

Only one case of serious sickness in this community, and that is Mrs. Maud Blair.

Rev. J. A. Johnson, pastor of the Methodist church this place, preached his farewell sermon Sunday night. Rev. Johnson is a good man.

OBITUARY.

A sad message received from Leonard, Texas, a few days ago bore the news of the death of Robt. E. Wells. He was a victim of that fatal disease, typhoid fever, and was a great sufferer till death relieved him.

The deceased was an affectionate brother, a devoted husband and loving father. He was born and reared in Cumberland county, near Greeshore, though left an orphan very young, he fought the battle of life bravely, having acquired a fair education and taught some before taking his leave for Texas, fourteen years ago. Left alone in the world, he had in him a kind and loving heart which manifested itself in his words and actions to his friends and associates; and all who knew him loved him. After living in Texas several years, he married Miss Hattie Davis, of Honey Grove, who he lived very happily with until separated by death. He leaves a heart-broken companion and two darling little ones, a sister and brother, to mourn the early death of him who they put their trust in the Lord for His promise to be a husband to the widow and a father to the fatherless. He is abundantly able to take care of all who trust him. While we are not able to understand His ways, let us pray to be submissive to his blessed will. While our hearts are torn and bleeding over the loss of this dear one, let us remember that God does all things for the best. When he left us 14 years ago little did we think we would never meet again on earth, but we hope to meet him in that home where farewell will never be spoken. SISTER.

Tariff Reform.

"Tariff reform was never more urgently needed than now, when the production that foreign markets are a prime condition of its continued prosperity." This is the language of the Ohio Democratic platform, and it is calculated to make one smile. We have just closed the books of a fiscal year, and they show that we have sold more of our commodities in foreign markets than any other year in our whole national existence. Then, where is the suggestion based upon wisdom, that we should reform the tariff in order to increase our foreign trade? It is more satisfactory that it ever has been; therefore, what is wrong? — Knoxville Tribune.

Remarkable Case.

Thomas Arbuckle, twenty-four years old, residing near Scottsburg, Ind., has not eaten a particle of food for four years. Four years ago he had typhoid fever, which left his cardiac orifice completely closed up. An operation was performed, which disclosed the fact that one side of the stomach was made fast to the wall of the abdomen. When he requires food he pours it in a liquid state, with aid of a funnel, through this opening into his stomach. His sense of taste is as acute as ever, and he samples the food by first taking a sip in his mouth before pouring it into his stomach. He has excellent health and does as much work in the field as any ordinary man. He claims to experience no inconvenience by not being able to take his food in the ordinary way.

The case is without a parallel in materia medica, in that the health of the man is such that he can perform the manual labor of an ordinary man.

At Frankfort the State authorities are troubled over the question whether a school teacher is justified in carrying a 14 Colts revolver. As during the session of the Legislature more men carry revolvers in Frankfort than any city in the United States and as guns have been the leading factor in our politics for the past two years, we see no occasion for a cold sweat upon the massive brow of Superintendent McChesney over such a little thing as a mountain school teacher totting off a gun.

Abe Wilder, a negro, was burned at the stake at Ray, Texas. He confessed to murdering Mrs. Caldwell. Wilder was chained to an elm tree, died scorching hay piled about his feet and limbs and wood piled to his shoulders. Mr. Caldwell, the husband of the victim, applied the match.

The Cuban Demand

It is strange that a territory, the possession of which has been the dream of the Republic for over a century, should now have to cry out for consideration, and then while under control of our own government we should be losing trade hitherto enjoyed with it.

The statement of Mr. L. V. DeAbad, commissioner for the consular association of Cuba, are remarkable in many ways. Why should the people of Cuba be forced to cry for terms when we have heretofore been so anxious to secure their allegiance? There is no doubt but that if left to the people of the United States there would be instant annexation of Cuba and an equal instant gift to the Cuban people of the absolute free trade for which Mr. DeAbad now pleads. What interest is it, then, that stands between the traditional desire of the people of the United States and its accomplishment? It is not the objection of the people of Cuba, for it must be admitted that they have been very mildly through many experiences which can only be explained by their willingness to become one with us. The objection is personal and greedy on the part of the sugar and tobacco interests, which seek to bleed the people of the union by the exclusion of Cuban products.

Are the people made for the trusts, or the trusts for the people? This question will become very prominent as Cuban matters are discussed, and it will be found that business interests, created and fostered by the government, are exacting the reasonable part of defeating the will of the people in regard to the Cuban question. It is mortifying to have a Cuban tell us that Americans "undertake business in the island with the same feeling as though they were doing it in a foreign country," and this is because the products of the island do not receive the advantage of American connection.

Sparks of humor.

Probably the man whose wife owns a pug dog has the sympathy of the dog. If a husband and wife are unable to go away for the summer they can start a pug dog at home and have a little outlet.

There is one redeeming feature about a folding-bed: even the most timid female doesn't have to look under it before retiring.

Said an Irishman: "If a Yankee was cast away on a desolate island he'd get up early the next morning and sell every inhabitant a map of the place."

Dr. Louis Knapp, aged 40, a practicing physician of St. Louis, is separated himself from his wife and four children and will become isolated from the world to nurse Dong Gong, the Chinese leprosy, was found in that city two weeks ago. The doctor, who is a graduate of a Detroit medical college, has taken final leave of his family. With his patient and prisoner as his only companion, Dr. Knapp will live in a three-room frame house now being built by the city authorities at quarantine, and will there devote the greater part of his time to the study of leprosy. There were five other applicants for the position.

The veterinarians of Chicago all have their hands full fighting the low grade of so-called influenza which is raging in that city at the present time. vast numbers of horses are sick and some owners of stables in which the horses are worked hard and few alternates kept have been forced into the market to buy new material where-to to horse their wagons.

The "New York Evening Sun" thus sums up the present situation in Gotham: "Never in the history of the horse market has there been such a scarcity of horses as at the present time. It is almost impossible to buy a horse at anything like the price formerly asked and some classes of horses such as coaches for instance, cannot be had at any price." That describes the situation in a few words.

Thomas Dean, a Mercer county farmer, committed suicide when the sheriff arrested him. Several years ago, Dean killed his wife's brother, for which he served a term in the penitentiary. When released his wife refused to live with him. With him lived his two daughters whom it is alleged he would not permit to have company or to attend church. Saturday, August 10, he knocked his oldest daughter Mary down because he saw her in the company of a young man the night before. For this Sheriff went to arrest him and when the officer presented the warrant Dean asked to go into the house to change his clothes. Entering the door he called his daughters who did not answer. He put a revolver to his head and fired, dying instantly. When Dean heard a warrant had been issued for his arrest, he made remarks which led others to believe that he intended to kill the Sheriff and both his daughters. For this reason it is said both girls fled from the house when the officer came.

Jealousy and malice are about the only attributes that some small souls possess. Their bitter tongues ever giving forth venomous stories, leaving unholy impressions that will not be removed in the ordinary course of a human life. Oftener than otherwise too, it is in cases that these characters carry within them some hidden spot a festering sore, which would clearly explain the source of evil that makes their lives a burden and creates that unrest that seeks to destroy the good name of others.

It is said that Mark Hanna is still solid with the Republican delegates. Very likely. Hanna has a full knowledge of the needs of the Southern delegates and the delegates have a proper appreciation of the solidity of Hanna.

The Republican Louisville Commercial is still camping on the trail of "the editor of the Democratic Post" of that city. The Commercial and the Post stand alone in the claim that the latter is a Democratic paper.

Husband.

If you have a weak, nervous, debilitated man, do not scold or become impatient with him. Give him Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, to renovate, regulate and strengthen his system, and he will soon be your happy, happy best friend. Price $1. Sold by agent in every town.

Mr. Charles Martin, of Millersburg, and Miss Maud Oney, of Cynthiana, were married in Lexington last week.

He owes his Life to the Forethought of a Companion.

While on a camping trip to Webster county, S. I. Stump, Normanstown, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the forethought of one of the company who had taken along a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." Moral—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It can be obtained while on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board cars or steamship, and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers never leave home on a journey without it. For sale by M. Craven.

Wm. Devore, a Hart county farmer, was killed by a limb from a tree falling on his head.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm applied to cuts, bruises, burns, scalds or like injury will instantly allay the pain and will heal the parts in less time than any other treatment. Unless the injury is very severe it will not make a scar. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism, sprains, swellings and lameness. For sale by M. Craven.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

A Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by M. Craven.

WINE OF CARDUI

The greatest ambition of American men and women is to have homes blessed with children. The woman afflicted with female disease is constantly menaced with becoming a childless wife. No medicine can restore dead ovaries, but Wine of Cardui does regulate the menstrual system, prevent conception, dead pregnancy, miscarriage; does restore weak functions and shattered nerves and does bring babies to homes barren and desolate for years. Wine of Cardui gives women the health and strength to bear healthy children. You can get a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your dealer.

WINE OF CARDUI

In February, 1901, I took one bottle of Wine of Cardui and one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I had been married fifteen years and had never had a child until I took Wine of Cardui. Now I am expecting a fine baby which weighs fourteen pounds and is well as well as my own. I never will use any other medicine. I am, Mrs. J. W. C. SEFFERT.

A Great Favorite.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by M. Craven.

WINE OF CARDUI

The greatest ambition of American men and women is to have homes blessed with children. The woman afflicted with female disease is constantly menaced with becoming a childless wife. No medicine can restore dead ovaries, but Wine of Cardui does regulate the menstrual system, prevent conception, dead pregnancy, miscarriage; does restore weak functions and shattered nerves and does bring babies to homes barren and desolate for years. Wine of Cardui gives women the health and strength to bear healthy children. You can get a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your dealer.

WINE OF CARDUI

In February, 1901, I took one bottle of Wine of Cardui and one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I had been married fifteen years and had never had a child until I took Wine of Cardui. Now I am expecting a fine baby which weighs fourteen pounds and is well as well as my own. I never will use any other medicine. I am, Mrs. J. W. C. SEFFERT.

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bensenville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength, vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For indigestion, loss of appetite, stomach and liver troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. 50c. at T. E.
